HARRISON FOR INCOME TAX

SAYS INHERITANCE TAX WOULD BE DOUBLE TAXATION

In Thirty-three States-He Pleads for & Sane and Speedy Consideration of the Tariff Bill-Mr. Ansberry Takes a Shot at Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot.

WASHINGTON, March 27.-By unanimous consent the House of Representatives to-day agreed to hold daily sessions lasting eleven hours each day, beginning on Monday next. On motion of Reprecentative Payne of New York, the Republican floor leader, the House agreed to meet at 10 o'clock in the morning and sit continuously until 6 o'clock, when a recess will be taken until 8 o'clock. The night session will end at 10:30 or 11 o'clock. In explaining his motion Mr. Payne said that he did not know how long general debate on the tariff bill would last, but as forty or fifty members had announced their intention of speaking on the bill, it was necessary for the House to hold longer sessions in order not to delay the bill. Representative Francis Burton Harrison of New York was the first speaker to-day. Mr. Harrison said that there was no disposition on the part of the Democratio members of the House to delay the passage of the bill except such as is required for an honest and sensible discussion of the paragraphs.

"The Democratic party," he declared, realizes that the responsibility for a prompt revision of the tariff rests almost equally upon both sides of the House. During the agitation over the rates in the bill business is practically at a standstill in many branches of industry. Nothing will cure this unhappy situation except sane and speedy consideration of the bill."

Discussing the income tax feature of the Payne bill Mr. Harrison said:

The provision for an inheritance tax is substantially a copy of the inheritance tax of the State of New York. We have found this a very satisfactory source of revenue in our State and it now raises more than one-fifth of the total revenues of New York. But the inheritance tax is already a State tax in thirty-three States Union. To impose an additional Federal tax is the odious plan of double taxation. This tax should therefore be left to the States themselves; the soundest ocratic doctrines. As Democrats we favor an income tax rather than an inheritance tax. A graduated income tax is the fairest way to place the burdens of taxation where they properly belong. Upon one great historic occasion this principle contributed in no small measure to a party sweeping victory. The Surticular income tax to be unconstitutional. this new believed, however, that an income tax bill can be drafted which will be constitutional, and it is even suggested that this is to be a feature of the present Adminis-As a Democrat I rejoice in a certain of the reform in the rules accomplished at the opening of this Congress, Without the Fitzgerald amendment we would have been unable to express our barty views upon amendments to this bill by a record vote. Under the new rules, however, the gentleman from Missouri, Mr. Clark, will be expected to move to recommit the bill with recommendations to amend ccording to Democratic traditions and rinciples. Among these will no doubt be found amendments to place the following articles on the free list for reasons I have already advanced: (1) The whole steel and iron schedules: (2) boots and shoes; (3) lumber, to which our Denver platform cifically pledged us; (4) zine ore; (5) tea and coffee, and to strike off the countervailing duty on petroleum and the differ-

Champ Clark of Missouri, the Democratic leader, announced that at the request of one of the largest manufacturers of shoes in this country he will offer an amendment requiring the stamping upon every pair of boots and shoes the quality of materials used. He asked Mr. Gardner of materials used. He asked Mr. Gardner how he would vote on such an amendment. "Oh, I am in favor of it," Mr. Gardner replied; "but the people up in my district will take my head off for it."

Mr. Ansberry of Ohio spoke for free lumber and handed one to Gifford Pinchot, the Chief Forester, when he said:

They saw, they converted, and when they left the nation's capital it is said that Gifford Pinchot was chained a prisoner at their chariot wheels.

Mr. Keifer took "America for Americans" as his text and discussed the tariff bill in a general way, incidentally roasting the tariff declaration in the Democratic national platform as having been adopted "without regard to consequences."

After a short speech by Mr. Slemp of Virginia the House at 6:15 adjourned until Monday.

Furriers Object to Tariff Change.

There was a meeting yesterday after noon of members of the fur trade, including manufacturers, wholesale and retail, dressers and dyers and importers at the Jacekel Building, 20 West Thirty-second street, to protest against the proposed Payne tariff bill in so far as it affects them. A petition was indorsed at the meeting which has been made up for the individual members to send to Congress. It states that the Dingley act was and is satisfactory to them.

A committee of nine was selected to represent the interests of the manufacturers at Washington. Its members are Alexander Heilbronner, chairman; for the manufacturers, Max Cohen, ranklin Gunther, Herman Baer and Max Thorn; for the importers, Edward M. Speer, Harry Eisenbach and Samuel Oliman; for the dressers and dyers, Tacodore Schiff.

JAPAN BOYCOTTING U. S.? Victoria Hears of Oppressive Applications of Pure Food Law.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 27.-Japan has adopted a policy of boycotting American goods and is confiscating shipments right and left, according to mail advices received to-day. The boycott is said to be h the nature of a rigid enforcement of "pure food" laws. The following appeared in a recent issue of a Yokohama newspaper:

"For some unexplainable reason, excepting that action has been taken under the 'food law.' the Japanese authorities, backed by police officers, have been calling on foreign and native grocers and confiscating their stocks of certain brands of goods. Strange to say, the goods confiscated have been American goods only. 🔌

"The officers do not even look at the British, German and French goods that were strongly in evidence. Another feature of these strange proceedings was that nearly all the articles confiscated bore the stamp of the American Health Board and each package was printed with all the names of the ingredients contained.

"The dealers inform us that they never knew there was such a thing as a Japanese pure food law,' and if there is they wonder why it is never enforced and snap judgment taken without notice. The loss to the dealers is serious."

MARRIES FIRST WIFE'S NURSE. C. V. Morgan of New Rochelle, 76 Years Old, Surprises His Children.

NEW ROCHELLE, March 27 .- In a letter sent to his sons to-day Charles V. Morgan, a wealthy resident of New Rochelle, who is in his seventy-seventh year, announced his marriage to Miss Bertha Gude of 355 Prospect avenue, Brooklyn. TAFT TO WORK FOR ECONOMY

WITH CABINET AND CONGRESS HE WILL CHECK WASTE.

Committee of His Advisers to Consider All Estimates-MacVeagh Issues a Circular to Heads of Departments Urging Them to Watch Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, March 27 .- President Taft has taken steps which are intended to bring about thorough cooperation between the executive and the legislative branches of the Government in the interest of economy. A few days ago it was announced that a new committee of the Senate had been created for the purpose of subjecting all estimates of appropriations to the most rigid scrutiny. This budget committee will find cordial cooperation on the part of the President and the heads of the executive departments, for Mr. Taft has directed that a committee of three members of the Cabinet be appointed to consider all estimates of expenditures before they are submitted to Congress. Thus all estimates will have to pass muster before a Cabinet committee and a committee of the Senate appointed especially for the purpose before appropriations are

This important Cabinet committee has not yet been appointed, but it is altogether likely that Secreatry of the Treasury MacVeagh on account of his relation to the fiscal system of the Government and his wide business experience will be named as one of the members. The whole aim and object of the Cabinet budget committee will be to discourage anything like extravagance in public expenditures and to see that all Department estimates are held down to figures which are warranted by the current and prospective revenues of the Government. The President and some of the ernment. The President and some of the most thoughtful members of the Administration and of Congress are satisfied that the haphazard way of appropriating public moneys must cease. In place of the haphazard method it is proposed to establish a system of careful watchfulness in order that the proper relation may be maintained at all times between current receivate and expenditures of the Government. maintained at all times between current receipts and expenditures of the Govern-ment. The matter has already taken definite shape. Secretary of the Treas-ury MacVeagh this afternoon addressed a circular to the heads of bureaus in the Treasury as follows:

The President wishes the Treasury Department, as well as the other departments of the Government, to take immediate measures to consider the question of such economies in expenditure as may be found by the most competent study to be feasible. It is intended to make the estimates of expenditures for the next and future years with the greatest care, and it is desirable that the attention of this Department should be directed as early as possible to he general study of this matter.

It is the intention that the estimates the different departments shall hereafter be submitted to the Cabinet and that they shall be considered together and as a whole and in connection with the Treasury estimates of the probable income

There is clearly a new disposition, not only in the executive government but in the Congress, toward such consideration and study of the Government expenditures as will bring about a responsible relation ship between the expenditures and the revenues.

The example set by Mr. MacVeagh will be followed by each of the members of the vaist holding a revolver and a long bladed dagger, was arrested early yesterday morning on a charge of stealing $1,500 worth of the royal jewelry and silver at the summer residence of the Princess Trephinea Buckland on the White Plains oad in Bronxdale.

Trephinea Buckland is a princess Romany style. The Bucklands are the rulers of the gypsy encampment in Bronxdale. Besides Plato Buckland and his wife there are two daughters, Trephines and Lola, and a son, Joshua, and his wife. Last November the head of the family hired Moench to take care of the horses and do chores. The hired man learned that the family treasures were kept in a strong box under Plato's bed. Plato has been laid up with rheumatism, and he was in bed when the box was taken from its resting place on Friday night about 9:30 o'clock. The box was found in a bar near by, but a bag of sovereigns that had been in it was gone, along with jewelry, silverware and other things.

The hired man was seen leaving camp about the time the theft was supposed to have been done. He was known to visit friends in East Fourteenth street, so Brother Joshua set off to trail him. At Fourteenth street and Third avenue he met Policeman James Murphy and told him all about it.

MIDNIGHT RUSHES AT CORNELL. Freshmen Win Five or Six and Chain a Sophomore to a Post.

ITHACA, March 27 .- Old time under lass hostilities at Cornell, which President Schurman has effectually banished for the last few years, came to life again last night, the occasion being the annual freshman banquet. A party of freshmen started out to cover the campus with posters boasting of the prowess of the class of 1912. When 200 of them had gathered at the agricultural college barns they heard that parties of sophomores were also out. They moved across the campus and five or six rushes were pulled off in the dead of night. The noise and shouting awoke many in the university community, but no one interfered with the rush. After the first encounter the freshmen were victorious, winning five out of six rushes. In one of the mixups J. C. Thompson, a sophomore from Brooklyn, injured his leg and was taken to the infirmary. The attending physician to-day was unable to tell whether any bones had been fractured. A party of freshmen surrounded the armory and held off the sophomores while two of their number climbed the flagpole where Old Glory flies every day and nailed the colors of 1912 to the pole. Then they cut away the halyards and greased the pole on the way down. This happened just before dawn. It took the sophomores three hours to get the flag down.

Another party of freshmen captured.

The regulations are intended to carry out the recent act of Congress which prohibits the importation of opium except for medicinal purposes, and will be effective on and after April 1. Section 6 o the new rules provides that there shall be no delivery of opium in any form. unless for medicinal purposes, and "smoking opium" is to be selsed as an illegal importation and destroyed according to law. The first four sections of the regulations. and section 6, are as follows:

i. The term "optum" shall cover all forms of optum known to the trade, such as gue optum, powdered optum, denarootized opium, granular opium, smoking opium, cooked opium, &c. The terms "smoking opium" and "opium prepared for smoking" have one and the same meaning.

2. The term "preparation" shall mean any product, mixture or compound containing or representing opium.

3. The term "derivative" shall include the

Mr. Gregory has had much experience with the Central American character. He went to Colombia many years ago and became a Major-General in the Colombian Army, suppressing one or more of the revolts that often follow differences of opinion between Central American statesmen. His choice of military life was due in part to the stealing of all his pack mules by revolutionists, which broke up a profitable freight business he had been carrying on. He came from Marblehead, Mass., and is more than 6 feet tall.

Meantime the other policemen who had come missed Shannon. Creevy plunged into the house, which was burning fiercely and pulled open a rear door. A back draught swept a sheet of flame right at him and he fell unconscious. Just then Shannon returned to the front of the house. When he learned that Creevy was in the building looking for him he rushed into the blazing hallway, stumbled over the prostrate Creevy and carried him out.

Dr. Burnett of the New York Hospital resuscitated Creevy, dressed his wounds and sent him home. The fire was subdued soon after the arrival of the firemen
